Vice Chancellor's Message

As the Vice-Chancellor of University of Ruhuna, I wish to congratulate and welcome you for gaining admission to Faculty of Medicine, University of Ruhuna. This will be a new chapter of your life which directs you to excel academically, qualify professionally and to develop as a responsible citizen. As an undergraduate, you will find the path to realize your highest aspirations as a well-qualified healthcare professional over the next five years.

You have been selected for one of the most prestigious state universities in Sri Lanka. You will be entitled to totally tuition free education. In addition, some of you will have the access to hostel facilities and Mahapola Scholarships. This is a rare privilege received by just 40,000 out of 180,000 children who qualified for higher education in GCE A/L 2019. The data for 2020 are not yet available. Therefore, it is your duty to uphold and enjoy such a privilege with utmost responsibility. Your journey will be challenging at times yet it will lead to your ultimate destination. This excellent opportunity will help shape your career with the acquisition of knowledge, competencies and correct attitudes towards the work world.

As a leading state university in Sri Lanka, we are committed to offer high quality, modern education suited to the national and global medical educational priorities. You will receive the best quality teaching and research supervision from a highly qualified academic staff. On the other hand, the rapid infrastructure development of the university will improve the user friendliness in the learning environment. You will have one of the best hospitals in the country for your clinical training. You should utilize these resources and the learning environment wisely and responsibly.

In the year 2020, University of Ruhuna spent Rs 4029 million for the undergraduates as recurrent expenditure. It means the cost of maintaining the university for one single day is more than Rs. 11 million! This cost is borne by the people of this country through their taxes. Hence, it is your responsibility to pursue higher education with due diligence, obtain a degree and leave the university as a graduate equipped with the knowledge, competencies and other skills. Upon leaving the university, you have a moral obligation and duty to serve your motherland.

According to data, around 30% of the medical graduates produced by the local university system leave the country seeking greener pastures overseas without serving the country. Even if postgraduate degrees or other overseas trainings are undertaken, I believe it is your duty and responsibility to return home and serve the motherland.

Ragging was prevalent in every University of Sri Lanka. To eradicate this menace, the Vice Chancellor, the Deputy Vice Chancellor, Deans of all faculties, academic and nonacademic staff work tirelessly. University of Ruhuna has minimized ragging with hard work. However, we need the support of the first-year students and their parents to completely eliminate ragging. It is important to realize that you are equally responsible for reporting any incidents of ragging, lodging complaints with the relevant authorities and giving evidence. If you fail in your duty, you may be found guilty under the Prohibition of Ragging Act for indirectly contributing to ragging.

Covid 19 has created an additional burden to the country and the University. We are duty bound to adhere to health guidelines issued by the Director General of Health Services while at work and inside the learning environment. All students entering UOR must be fully vaccinated. There will be restrictions in access for some activities for those who have refused the vaccination upon entry into the UOR physically.

There are positive trends as well as negative trends in the university. You could undertake leadership training through sports, social clubs, other associations and societies in the university. Amongst the undesirable trends, the most widespread are the use of narcotics and liquor, political violence, anti-social conduct. Please avoid such trends.

You are responsible for earning your own degree. Please maintain close links with teachers and seek the support of the student counselling service. If you experience economic hardships, immediately meet the student counsellors and brief them in that regard and be honest in providing information. Understand that the higher education is aimed at liberating the humankind from poverty.

Please be a medical professional committed to serve the humanity.

May you have a fruitful and joyful university life!

Senior Professor Sujeewa Amarasena

Dean`s Message

As the Dean of Faculty of Medicine, it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the Faculty of Medicine, University of Ruhuna the same institution in which I had my medical education. In this institution, you will have to develop yourselves with the confidence needed to face the global health challenges in the future. To achieve this goal, you will have to acquire necessary skills and develop yourselves in-depth knowledge in the health sciences. It is also important for you to develop yourselves to interact and to help people whom you will meet as patients and their loved ones during this period. This is a continuous process of self-development rather than just learning medical sciences.

There is a committed and dedicated staff in the Faculty who will support you in the process and there will be enough opportunities for you to engage in recreational activities which are an essential requirement in your progress.

I hope that you will spend the most beneficial and meaningful 5 years in your life with us, to leave this place with adequate knowledge, skills and attitudes to face the global health challenges of the future.

Structure of the course

Students commence their clinical training (which continues through the 3rd, 4th and 5th years) after they have passed the 2nd MBBS examination. A record of clinical appointments is made on the Student Record Book provided. All clinical appointments have to be completed before a student sits the Final MBBS examination. In the 3rd and 4th years, students study Para-clinical subjects as well. At the end of the 3rd year students sit the 3rd MBBS Part I examination (Microbiology and Parasitology), and at the end of the 4th year, the 3rd MBBS Part II examination (Community Medicine, Forensic Medicine, Pathology and Pharmacology). Each part of the 3rd MBBS examination is held twice each year.

A student shall complete his Final Examination with either within 6 years or 12 scheduled attempts after the first scheduled attempt, all periods of exemption granted by the Senate being excluded when computing this six year period, or within 10 years after registration as a student of the Faculty of Medicine, whichever is less. The Final MBBS examination is held twice a year.

Faculty of Medicine offers it's degree programme without any gender discrimination in teaching, learning and assessments.

Seminars and Workshops

One evaluation seminar is held during the Community Medicine Clerkship. One seminar is held during Community Attachment Programme. A workshop on Research Methodology is carried out prior to the beginning of the Student Research Projects.

Community Medicine Clerkship Programme

Community Medicine Clerkship Programme is designed with the objective of making the students aware about the delivery of field health care services at national, provincial, district and divisional levels. The students are attached to public health institutions [Medical Officer of Health (MOH) office of the University Field Training area, Bope-Poddala and MOH Galle Municipality] to learn the duties and service-related functions of the public health team.

The students are expected to observe the provision of services under the Reproductive, Maternal, Newborn, Child, Adolescent and Youth Health (RMNCAYH) Programme of Sri Lanka through visits to Maternal & Child Health clinics and well women clinics. In addition, they get the opportunity to observe the delivery of occupational and environmental health services, food and water sanitation and port health services by visiting the relevant institutions, factories and the Port Health Office. Community Medicine Clerkship programme also includes visits to elderly homes, orphanages, a community based rehabilitation center and an Ayurvedic Hospital to gain an understanding of the community health services and alternative system of Medicine in Sri Lanka.

At the end of the programme, each group of students conducts a seminar on topics covered during the programme as a peer teaching session, with a formative evaluation of the presentations. An OSPE is held at the end of the Clerkship programme for each group and the marks obtained for the OSPE will be added under the Clerkship component in the 3rd MBBS Part II Examination.

Student Research Projects

A workshop on selection of research problems, literature survey and preparation of research proposals is carried out during the introductory clinical appointments. The students are assigned to 24 groups and the research proposals are developed with the guidance of a supervisor. After obtaining ethical approval, the data collection, analysis and report writing is carried out during the 8th - 10th terms and the research project reports are submitted at the 11th term. A viva voce examination is conducted to evaluate the research project and the marks obtained for the viva voce examination and for the research report are added for the Research component in the 3rd MBBS Part II Examination.

Community Attachment Programme

The students are grouped into 12 groups and a small community of 25-30 households is allocated for each group during the introductory clinical appointments. Working in groups, they carry out a community survey to identify common health problems as well as social, environmental and behavioral problems in the given community with a view to deliver of primary health care and supportive services with inter-sectorial collaboration and community participation. The students are assessed periodically to evaluate their progress. Two summative assessments will be conducted during the the course; A field assessment is arranged during the Community Medicine Clerkship Programme. A final report on Community Attachment has to be submitted by each group at the 11th term and marks for the field assessment, final report and a Viva voce examination on the report constitute the marks for the Community Attachment component in the 3rd MBBS Part II Examination.

Clinical Appointment in Family Medicine

The clinical appointment in Family Medicine is designed for a one-week with the objective of making students competent in providing unsupervised primary care at the community as a medical doctor in future. The students are attached to the University Family Practice Center, a private General Practitioner's clinic and the Outpatient Department (OPD) of the Teaching Hospital, Karapitiya. During this appointment, the students are expected to observe and learn how to provide comprehensive, continuing health care in both preventive and curative contexts for the individuals and the families.

The pass mark for Anatomy is 50%. The candidate will have to obtain a minimum of 40% in theory (sum of marks of Paper I, Paper II and theory component of continuous assessment tests for the first attempt) to pass the examination in Anatomy. For the second and subsequent attempts, theory component of continuous assessment tests is not considered for the calculation.

A candidate will be awarded a distinction in Anatomy if he/she obtained an aggregate mark of 70% or more in Anatomy.

Senior Professor EAG Fonseka

Mr. KSGS Nishantha

Dr. SGS Samaraweera

The English Language Learning Program of the Ruhuna Faculty of Medicine is designed with the objective of assisting medical students to improve their English proficiency in order to follow the undergraduate degree program in Medicine effectively. It is conducted in a form of an Intensive English Course (IEC) for new Ruhuna medical entrants each year soon after their admission to the faculty. This has been the practice since 2006. Currently it is conducted as a part of the Foundation module. The IEC is also known as English for Medical Practice – I (EMP-I) as it is the first organised step in the faculty to orientate students in medical English.

21.3.2 Duration of the course

The course duration varies from 2 weeks to 2 months. It is dependent on the time allocation for the foundation module and the period of entry of a new batch. However, the average time period of the Intensive English Course during past few years was 3-4 weeks.

Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages University of Cambridge ESOL conducted by The British Council Sri Lanka

21.3.3 Contents of the course

The Intensive English Course is comprised of 5 components.

1. Reading
2. Writing
3. Grammar
4. Speaking
5. Listening

All components are given equal weightage when lessons are planned and grammar lessons are conducted as a separate component to further improve the writing skills of students. All lessons are pre-planned with the intention of orientating students to a medical environment. The duration of single session of learning is one hour.

The learning strategy adopted for IEC is the small group discussion. The whole batch is divided into 8-10 groups following an Aptitude test which is usually conducted at the Day 01 of the admission. The objective of conducting the Aptitude test is to obtain an understanding about the current knowledge level of English of all the students. The students are given no exemptions and all students are mixed into groups on a basis that each group comprises of better and weak students. The intention of such a plan is to provide more learning opportunities to students through peer involvement.

The course is conducted continuously on week days from 8am to 12 noon during the prescribed period. The required attendance of students is maintained at 100%.

Printed learning materials are used extensively to teach all 5 components. Listening activities are conducted by using audio and video clips supplemented by writing activities. Student debates and Speaking tests are conducted during the latter part of the course to improve the speaking skills of students.

The concept of a drama contest was introduced as a part of the IEC in 2013 and was successfully continued up to now. The students have shown keen interest in writing drama scripts, preparing their own costumes and performing different characters in this contest and it has become a great cohesive exercise.

The first ever residential English camp for Ruhuna medical students was held in 2014 for the 36th batch of students with funds received from HETC project.

In 2021, the IEC was held as an online course for the first time due to Covid-19 impact. The classes were conducted via the zoom platform and the faculty LMS was used to share the lesson material for students.

21.3.4 Further assistance in English

An ongoing English learning program is designed for students who require further assistance after completing the Intensive English Course. This optional program is conducted once week mainly by the internal staff of the Faculty of Medicine. It is also designated as English for Medical Practice (EMP)-II as this program is aimed at providing a wider platform to enhance the proficiency in medical English.

21.3.5 Assessment

All students must sit the University Test for English Language (UTEL-A) examination at the completion IEC. This examination is comprised of two one-hour papers on Reading & Writing components. The achievement of Level 3 and above is considered as a pass. The setting of UTEL-A Examination question papers and first marking of answer scripts are done by the academic staff of the Dept. of English Language Teaching, Faculty of Humanities & Social Sciences, University of Ruhuna.

According to by-laws of the Ruhuna Faculty of Medicine, it is mandatory to pass the UTEL-A examination for all students before they start professorial appointments in the final year. The examination is held once a year with the completion of IEC for each batch of new entrants. The UTEL-A examination was held in 2013 & 2014 as a UGC conducted, centrally coordinated and computer-based examination for all universities.

Student Counselling and Welfare Services

23.1 Student Support Services

The Faculty of Medicine receives students from many geographical locations in Sri Lanka every year. They are away from home for the first time and only a proportion receive accommodation within the halls of residence. The course work in medicine is considered one of the most demanding. Hence both the academic as well as the social factors place a burden on the students and in recognition of these, the Faculty has instituted the Student Support Services. The following are the functions of the different facets of this programme though there is a considerable overlap.

23.1.1 Student Mentoring

The purpose of mentoring is to support and encourage medical students to develop skills, improve their performance, maximize their potential and ultimately flourish as a doctor. Close support and guidance from a mentor is invaluable in this process. In recognition of this need, the Faculty allocates each student, a member of the academic staff as the mentor at the admission to the Faculty. The assigned mentor or mentors and the student build mentor – mentee relationships that would support the student during the full period of the study in the Faculty. The mentor will be the closest person to whom the student would turn to both at good times and bad times. The mentor helps and encourages the student as well as directs the student to the appropriate resource/s when help is needed. The mentors work closely with the student counselors.

23.1.2 Student Counseling

There are 10 appointed students counselors drawn from the academic staff. They have undergone training in counseling. The students may be referred for counseling by the mentors, by the respective Heads of departments or the students themselves may contact the counselors. The counselors work with the students exploring different options available to students facing academic, psychological or social problems and helping the students to make decisions. To achieve these objectives, there is a dedicated student counseling centre which is open every weekday between 11 am to 1 pm. In addition, there is a telephone hotline which the students who need support can call out of hours and the call will be answered by one of the student counselors. Students can share their problems, discuss worries and anxieties in confidence with the counselors.

The list of student counselors for 2021 is as follows.

Dr. Dammika Palangasinghe (Department of Medicine)

Dr Lanka Dassanayake

Dr Lahiru Prabodha

Dr Imalke Kankanararachchi

Dr Nuwan Darshana

Dr Gayani Alwis

Dr Janithra De Silva

Dr Warsha De Zoysa

Dr Pabasara Kalansuriya

Dr Lalindi De Silva

When the student counselors are of the opinion that there exist mental health issues or counseling needs for a student which requires further expertise, they seek advice from academic staff members of the Department of Psychiatry. The specialist psychiatrists and the clinical psychologist there will provide the additional expert assistance needed. For any physical illnesses, the students may require assistance, access is provided to the Faculty Medical Officer, who as of 2021 is a specialist physician.

23.1.3 Student Scholarship schemes

Financial burdens on students are a frequent problem. There are specific scholarships offered by the Faculty through donations from well-wishers as well as university funded bursaries. Applications are called for from students requiring assistance and after review by the counselors about the financial needs, social circumstances and proofs of incomes received, recommendations are made from the shortlisted candidates for further financial assistance. Some scholarships are based on the academic performances of students and these are given as awards. Some schools are based on extracurricular performances as well.

23.1.4 Student advisory services

These are specifically aimed at students who are poorly performing at the continuous assessments as well as students who fail summative examinations. The academic members of the respective departments hold one-on-one meetings with the students concerned, discuss the problems and attempt to find student tailored action plans to overcome the academic deficiencies. Ongoing concerns which are difficult to address are brought to the notice of the mentors, student counselors and the Dean of the Faculty, if required by the Heads of respective departments.

23.2 Health Services

The University Medical Centre was started at the University in December 1985. A medical examination for all new entrants is an admission requirement for the simple reason that a new entrant may suffer in silence. Medical student can seek assistance on health matters from members of the clinical academic staff as well as from the medical staff of the Teaching Hospitals, Karapitiya and Mahamodara. The UMO designate for the Faculty of Medicine is Dr. Dammika Palangasinghe (Department of Medicine).

23.3 Other Services

23.3.1 Canteens

Canteen facilities are available for medical students within the premises of the Faculty of Medicine at Karapitiya

23.3.2 Hostel

The faculty provides hostel facilities for medical undergraduates from the first year to the final year. There are four hostel complexes located within the faculty premises (Stemcor complex, two Kuwait complexes and the old hostel complex). Hostels are located in a calm and quiet environment in the rear area of the Faculty. Students are provided residential facilities at a nominal charge. Currently hostels are home to approximately 700 students and 12 academic members. Usually each room is shared by two students. There are common washrooms and shower areas shared by the students residing on the same floor. In each floor, a kitchen is available for cooking purposes. There are several study areas, for group studies and discussions. Limited parking facilities are available for students. Smoking and alcohol are prohibited in the hostel premises.

Dr. Gayani Alwis	-	(Warden Female)
Dr. LAhiru Prabodha	-	(Sub Warden Male)
Dr. Warsha De Zoysa	-	(Sub Warden Female)

Hostel Policy

The hostel policy is to provide 80% of its accommodation facilities for the new entrants and the final years. For the rest of the batches 15% of the hostel facility is allocated for students with special difficulties (financial difficulties, death of parents, illnesses etc.) as per the decision of the hostel committee. The remaining 5% is allocated for students with special achievements in sports and for officials of the student union.

CHAPTER 24

Career Guidance Unit

24.1 Introduction

The Career Guidance Unit of the University of Ruhuna was set up in March 2000, to provide career guidance services to the undergraduates. Since then, the unit has implemented various programs to make the undergraduates aware of the employment opportunities available, the qualities expected by the employers, and the way of acquiring the skills and the knowledge necessary for responding to the job market needs.

The unit wishes to build-up continuous links with the private sector as well the government institutions to facilitate productive interaction between the undergraduates and such institutions.

The CGU assists undergraduate students to realize their competencies and creativity, and to provide them with appropriate trainings to enhance their employability and to guide them to make optimum decisions on educational and occupational choices in order to achieve the future goals of their personal life, academic and professional career in a challenging world of work.

Every student is supposed to register with CGU at the time of university entrance and he/she can participate in the selected CGU programs on voluntary basis thereafter with consultation of the Faculty Academic Career Advisor. Such programs include regular soft skills development courses, Leadership trainings, talents enhancing programs, out bound trainings, career clubs, industry visits, internships, graduate placements etc.
